Film & Television Relief Program
Emergency Financial Aid for Film & Television Workers

The Film and Television Relief Program

Raising money to provide Emergency Financial Aid for Film and Television Workers

The Film and Television Relief Program provides emergency financial aid to help entertainment industry professionals working in all aspect of film and television production maintain their health, housing and ability to work after an injury, illness or economic setback.

This year hundreds of your colleagues and their families will receive assistance with rent or mortgage payments, utility bills, money for groceries and other basic living expenses during a critical period.

Demand for assistance has tripled in the last decade. Over $4.4 million in financial aid has been distributed in the past 10 years. In the last two years alone over $1 million has been provided to entertainment workers and their families in need.

The Film and Television Relief Program's Reel Friends Plan

A Voluntary Payroll Donation Program for Film and Television Workers

- There's no better time to give than when you're working. By enrolling in the Reel Friends Plan - be it for a month, a year or as long as you like - you can automatically make donations that start when you're working and stop when you're not.
- ♦ Payroll donations are an extremely effective way of supporting a cause you believe in. A 1% or 2% weekly payroll donation will likely not be noticeable to you but will make a huge difference in the life of a colleague in need.
- ♦ Signing up for payroll donations is an easy way to support the charity that has provided emergency financial assistance to so many of your film and television colleagues.

Visit www.emergencyrelief.ca/reelfriends to sign up today.

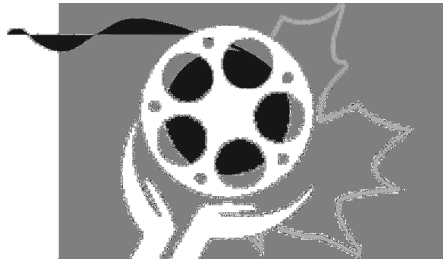

The Film & Television Relief Program is a program of the Actors' Fund of Canada. The Actors' Fund is the lifeline for Canada's entertainment industry and is a registered charity. For more information visit www.actorsfund.ca
